

Sean

Rosewood and brass: a refined combination that evokes the spirit of English golf clubs and the sophisticated charm of aristocratic lounges. Assembled at 45 °, with a veneer of rosewood that rotates around the entire piece giving a sense of continuity, the Sean chest of drawers features the presence of sloping legs with brass tips, giving a Mid-Century style charm to the whole.

Chest of drawers with structure in beech wood veneered in rosewood with glossy finishing. Legs in black lacquered finishing. Details in bronzed wood.
